Southeast News.

Parma Courier.

Some person or persons entered the home of Lon Bell at Catron, Monday while no one was at home, ransacked the house, getting a watch, clock, some little money and groceries, and then destroyed the house by setting fire to it.

Bloomfield Vindicator.

Mrs. C. E. Smith is our next county superintendent of schools. She succeeded in piling up enough majority in the election Tuesday to dispel all doubt as to the winner of the contest. Unofficially, they give her the majority by about four hundred votes over her opponent, Frank Asa. She is the first woman in Stoddard county to be elected to office.

Madison County Mines

Not since long before the Buckeye closed have mining conditions been as promising in Madison county as they are to-day. In the first place the surplus of lead caused by over-production during the last few years, has been greatly reduced.

The present world war is causing a greater demand for lead and when the war closes the demand will be greater, so great in fact, that we may look for the development of new mines wherever rich deposits are known to exist.

Since the late change at Mine la Motte, one of the greatest mining companies in the world, Mine la Motte, is tied to Madison county. The Federal is reviving the Catherine and if rumor be true, negotiating options on other properties.

A new day is dawning.—The Fredericktown Democrat-News.

Wesley, Iowa

Farmers are preparing to do field work here.

The chief crops of this section are corn and oats.

Burette Key and Roe Hindman, former Bollinger county boys, are employed at Jack Lawler's.

Mr. Spud Cutter of Olathe, Colo., we understand you intend to locate near Denver. Why not come to Iowa and be content the rest of your days? We enjoy reading the letters in The Press from our friend, Mr. Grant, of Denver and would be glad to read more of his newsy articles.

Iowa has good roads and her soil can not be excelled. No swamps or mountains in this section, but high prairie land with pure water and plenty of rainfall.

Most of the farmers here have not less than one quarter section and many cultivate from two to three sections. Burette Key says farming here is like getting money from home without writing for it—it's so easy.

Let's hear from Balch, Ark., occasionally. A "Show Me" Boy.

Poultry Don'ts

The carload wholesale producers of Kansas and Oklahoma have adopted the following don'ts, says Wallace's Farmer.

Don't keep mongrel stock.

Don't hatch your next winter's layers after June 1st.

Don't allow the male birds with the flock after you are thru hatching.

Don't compel the hens to make their nests in the weeds and under the buildings. Provide one nest for every four hens.

Don't allow the nests to become filthy.

Don't set hens where other hens can lay in the same nest.

Don't wait till ready to go to town before gathering eggs.

Don't keep eggs in a damp place.

Don't keep eggs in a kitchen or near a fire of any kind.

Don't sell eggs that have been gathered from a stolen nest. Such eggs should be used at home.

Don't wash eggs.

Don't expose eggs to the sun's rays when taking them to town.

Don't sell eggs case count, but demand that your eggs be candled.

Don't hold eggs over three days in warm weather.

Don't market eggs that have been in the incubator.

Don't keep eggs in a tight vessel of any kind.

Don't market small or dirty eggs. Use them at home.

Don't keep eggs near oil, onions, etc., as they readily absorb odors.

Somewhere—Is Right Down Here

Somewhere the birds are singing
In the sweet old way of song
That sets the echoes ringing
Where the golden memories throng.
Somewhere the tides are turning
From their fury and their storm
To the peace of soft skies burning
Where the fragrant shadows swarm.

Somewhere the world is happy
And the days are bright with sun;
Somewhere the wind is snappy
And the waves in thunder run.
Somewhere they're having heaven
In their hours of song and bloom;
Somewhere is love to heaven
All the heartache and the gloom.

Somewhere is always somewhere
That we think is far away;
But somewhere's always somewhere
Where the Lord bids us to stay
And all it needs is patience,
And believing grace and cheer
To show us that life's somewhere
Is right down around us here.
—St. Joseph Observer.

BOOST

Don't sit supinely on your roost, but come along and help us boost for better things of every kind and leave your kicking clothes behind. O let us boost for better streets, and softer beds and longer sheets, for smoother lawns and better lights and shorter winded blatherskites, for finer homes and larger trees, for bats and boots and bumblebees, for shorter hours and longer pay and fewer thistles in our hay, for better grub and bigger pies, for two more moons to light the skies. And let the wolves of war be loosed on every man who doesn't boost?—Walt Mason.

Can You Spell?

At Kokoma, Indiana, a few days ago, the superintendent of the schools held a spelling contest. Every person of the city was eligible and six hundred took the test. Of that number only fifty-two made a perfect score.

Newspaper men, doctors, lawyers, merchants, teachers and scholars submitted lists of twenty words each and from that total twenty words were selected. The complete list with the number of times each word was misspelled, follows: miscellaneous, 364; calendar, 324; parallel, 273; privilege, 270; superintendent, 243; principle, 253; niece, 223; lose, 201; separate, 196; principal, 142; necessary, 137; business, 130; relieve, 125; receive, 109; truly, 85; government, 84; grammar, 79; believe, 73; disappoint, 177; disease, 163.

One woman, who made a perfect score, had been a servant for nearly sixty years and had had only eight weeks schooling.

A county official, who had been in business all his life, missed every word. Another man got one right. One woman missed all but three.—Greenville Sun.

Just a Ford Story

A Ford owner started out one morning into the country. After he had been going half an hour the machine stopped. He got out and pulled the doo dad and still the Ford didn't move. Then he tried the whing whang, but the Ford remained silent. Finally he raised the hood. "By George" he said, "the repair shop forgot to put in the engine." The car had run twelve miles on reputation.—Exchange.

Lutesville News

R. Alexander of Trace creek was here Saturday.

A team ran away here Tuesday, but that is a common occurrence.

Bear in mind and don't forget the Skating Rink is open to all, you bet.

Fred E. Mabner, circuit clerk and recorder, is having his place fenced and improved.

Mrs. Joseph Jansen returned Tuesday from Oran, where she had been visiting her sons.

Mrs. Bob Finley of near town spent Tuesday with Mrs. Troy Francis in Lutesville.

Mrs. D. E. Abernathy returned Saturday after a week of visiting with relatives at Tilsit.

Mrs. Jesse Robertson bought the lots, where the hickory mill was located, a few days ago.

Mrs. Henry Baker of the Cape came up Sunday to visit relatives and friends a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Clingsmith of Glen Allen were here Saturday, transacting business with our merchants.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dale of Fredericktown came down last Sunday to visit their daughter, Mrs. S. E. Chandler.

Every Monday and Friday there will be roller skating at the Opera House. Attend and have the time of your life.

Lin Miller, railroad agent at Neelys Landing arrived here to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Miller, a few days.

Mrs. Mason Day of Dexter came up last Friday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dickey, and relatives for a week.

Mrs. Omer Lutes and son, Master Lester, returned from Essex Tuesday where they visited her sister, Mrs. Walter E. Revelle.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Patterson returned Tuesday from Cairo, Ill., where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Patterson's aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fryer of St. Louis came down Sunday and will look after their farm on Drunk branch and spend a few days fishing.

'Squire Lommer and Lucius McLane left the first of the week for Cape Girardeau to attend the United States District court, as jurors.

Mrs. H. L. Miller and son, Lendon, and daughter, Miss Helen, visited their mother-in-law and grandmother, Mrs. Malinda Miller, Sunday.

Fred Grimsley of Shrum was here Saturday, accompanied by his mother, who was on her way to Laffin to visit her son, L. J. Grimsley, and family.

Lum Zimmerman of near town visited relatives at Advance a few days, returning Sunday. He says the wheat crop down there looks very fine.

Mr. Kirtland and family moved from the Elfrink property to Chaffee one day last week. J. M. Owen moved into the house vacated by Mr. Kirtland.

The Skating Rink at the Opera House will open up Friday night with a big blow out. The first night will be free for the ladies, providing they have their own skates.

The program at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening drew a large crowd. The house was full to overflowing and everybody enjoyed the splendid program, which was rendered in a most creditable manner.

Allen Dunn of Buchanan was here Sunday, accompanied by his son Elmer, who is teaching at Elvins. Mr. Dunn says the wheat crop is looking fine, notwithstanding the fact that it has been pastured thru the winter.

Stand Back Men! Give Him Air!

Not long ago a man came into this office and stopped his paper, because he said it was always printing a lot of things about the same people and he was sick of it. Now when something goes wrong with the country the government appoints a commission to investigate and find out what is the matter, and the first thing a commission investigates is the man who made the holler to see if the holler was a reasonable holler. So we appointed a commission consisting of ourselves to investigate this man. We just followed that man's career ever since we knew him.

The first thing that happened to that man was that he was born, but he had nothing to do with it. However we mentioned him, although his parents were entitled to the credit. When he was in his early twenties he got married. We mentioned that, including the name of the bride, the preacher, etc., in fact we mentioned everything but the preacher's fee, which was not worth mentioning. We never mentioned the fact that he ever won any premiums at the county fair because he never exhibited anything. We never mentioned his name in a list of committees, because he never attended anything. We never mentioned his name in the list of donors because he never donated so much as a doughnut.

We certainly have been treating this man shameful, but we will agree to run a nice obituary when the time comes.—Leitchfield (Ill.) News-Herald.

The Fate of the Knocker.

His hammer was ready
He was willing to knock—
In fact, it seemed knocking
Was his capital stock.
He knocked his best neighbors
And he knocked all their boys;
No one could rest near him
For his fierce knocking noise.
He knocked the whole country,
He knocked his own home town,
'Till Fate got his habit
And knocked the knocker down.
—J. P. Campbell in the Doniphan Prospect-News.
